STREET EVANGELISM

UNLEASH THE POWER!

How to start a successful street evangelism ministry and personally touch the lives of hundreds and even thousands in just a few minutes a day.

Free Word Ministries
Introduction

Street evangelism is the most exciting, rewarding, and powerful ministry that you will ever be involved in. If you have the faith as a grain of mustard seed you can personally touch the lives of hundreds and even thousands with just a few minutes each day.

“How do I begin street evangelism? Where do I get Bibles, New Testaments, and tracts? Do I need a permit? What are some of the risks involved?” These are just a few of the questions that are answered in this thought provoking and challenging resource.

With just minutes a day you can accomplish what we have: Distributing thousands of free Bibles, New Testaments, and Gospels of John. Along with publicly reading God’s Word to thousands, while providing for the material as well as the spiritual needs of the poor.

Before I get into the particulars on what is needed to start a street ministry, let me explain how we were able to make a difference in the lives of thousands.

Downtown Manhattan is an extremely busy and crowded place. Thousands of hardworking professionals are all hustling to get from one office to another. Lunch time in New York is an experienced for the five senses. The aroma of hot dogs, sausage, kielbasa, gyros, pretzels, peanuts, and anything else that can be cooked over an open flame rushes upon you as you brush alongside the working folk. Horns, sirens, music, and conversation fills the air. It’s an ordered frenzy of activity in the streets. Yet among the crowds there is the voice of one crying in the wilderness “Prepare ye the way of the Lord.” From Battery Park, to Wall Street, to Times Square and beyond, God has His sowers spreading the Gospel.
One spring day as I sat in Battery Park eating my lunch and reading my Bible, I heard a voice as if speaking through a megaphone heartily booming to the crowds the gospel of Jesus Christ. As I began walking toward the sound, I was quite surprised to find a man more than 50 yards away using his natural voice with no amplification device. Richard is a large barrel chested Italian whose voice is as strong as an opera singer. His partner on the other hand was a soft spoken man from India named Vorke (ver-key). There they were standing in the entrance to the park reading the Holy Scriptures. When Richard was finished I approached him and introduced myself as a believer. In the midst of our conversation he opened his Bible and turned to 1 Timothy 4:13. The scripture read, “Until I come, devote yourself to the public reading of scripture...” (NIV). And he said, “If you are a young man of God like Timothy was, then this scripture applies to you.” Time and courage were in short supply that day, so I returned to work. Every day Richard and Vorke would read and expound on the scriptures to the pedestrians passing by. I often found myself meeting them for lunch and they of course would encourage me to read the Bible out loud and give my testimony. I finally said to myself, “Why not? Why shouldn’t I give my testimony publicly and tell others about what Christ has done for me?” And when I finally agreed, God opened a door of ministry for me that has been the greatest joy in my Christian service so far. In fact, everyone who was involved in that ministry in Battery Park proclaims to this day that this was the most exciting days of their lives.

The daily reading of scripture outside the entrance to the park continued for several months until one day God moved upon my heart to acquire a folding table and some New Testaments to give away. The Lord instructed us to move inside the park where we had the full attention of those seated on the benches. Every day hundreds of people from different backgrounds and with different problems heard the gospel and were offered New Testaments. We were available to bankers, lawyers, clerks, tourists, business men and women, homeless people, suicidal people, drug addicts - anyone who passed by our table. We also encountered the cults on a regular basis, from Jehovah Witnesses to Hare Krishnas. Yet the work of the Lord continued.

In the four years that we faithfully met for lunch, more than 5,000 New Testaments were distributed, and we ministered to thousands of people. We even began a Free Bible Day in New York City which encouraged churches to freely give Bibles away on the first Sunday in October. This project was supported by the International Bible Society and continued for three years. It resulted in local churches distributing 15,000 Bibles. Five hundred of those Bibles even found their way to Peru in South America through one Assembly of God Church.

Since then Free Word Ministry has distributed thousands more New Testaments. We have also opened a warehouse in Dallas and are helping to provide Gospels of John, scripture booklets and training material at no cost to the Christians here and around the world.

If I took the time to describe every encounter and every victory won during that ministry it would be a long time before you actually would begin street evangelism yourself. So I will spread some of the adventures we faced in each of the following chapters and share with you how you can change the world for Christ.

The Spoken Word

The spoken word is one of the most powerful forces this world has known. With it we can communicate visions, ideals, verdicts, laws, dreams, hopes, love, and anything that is expressible to the extent that lives will be changed. And when you look at those who have used this force throughout history you will find a vast variety of men and women shaping their world for the better or for the worse. From the ruthless to the sublime, mankind has witnessed the abuse of this force in people such as Adolph Hitler and the beauty and majesty of this force in Christ himself.

What are you doing with this immense power that has been granted you? Are you using it for evil or for good? Or are you just hiding this precious gift as the man who hid his talent in the ground. Every moment that we keep silent evil advances, fear increases, and opportunities to change lives are lost.

In the Bible we find men such as Jonah, who simply proclaimed the message of God’s coming judgment and thousands of souls were spared. John the Baptist who prepared the way of the Lord and thousands were baptized. Peter who spoke of the salvation of God that is in Christ Jesus and thousands repented and believed. The list is endless of all who have changed the world through speaking out publicly. They overcame the social pressures of their day to keep silent and they risked being embarrassed for the sake of the truth. Here’s where the commandment concerning denying yourself is applicable. In order to be an over comer one must let go of everything which stands in the way of accomplishing the ministry that Christ has given to His church. Only you can present the gospel of Christ in a way that will be to His praise and have His approval in your life. No minister can proclaim the gospel for you. You have to change the world yourself through Christ. One person yielded to the one true God produces great results.
Imagine what this country would be like if every Christian stood on every street corner and read their Bibles publicly for one hour every Sunday. What an impact it would have on this country and the world.

Now allow your imagination to explore the possible impact of Christians attending to the public reading of scripture every day. That’s how you turn the world around for Christ. You brave the doubts, fears, apathy, ridicule, and everything which dares to hinder the work of the gospel. Only you can make that happen! No one else.

Now imagine if the cults begin to get even bolder and exercise this authority. The only reason I believe that they haven’t begun publicly reading from their own corrupted translations and spreading their own doctrines on our street corners is that God has been restraining them. He has given us, His children, this opportunity and privilege. However if we refuse it, God may allow their false doctrines to be communicated on every street corner in America. Then what are we going to do?

I come from Brooklyn, New York. I have seen Jehovah Witnesses on street corners with their corrupt publications, leading others away from Christ. In little more than a hundred years, the Jehovah witnesses grew from a small group to more than two million people. All lost.

Don’t let the Devil fool you into thinking that you are not called, or that you are not capable to stand before the public. You are. We all are called to reach the lost for Christ. Just as He sent someone to you and had them tell you about Him, so now you are to tell others. Remember, “He who is in you is greater than he who is in the world.” You can be certain that the reading of the Word will produce the desired effects of God. For it is written, “So shall my word be that goeth forth from my mouth; it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it” (Isaiah 55:11).
The power to change lives is in the Word of God. We are not sufficient in ourselves. Just read the word. You don’t have to explain every detail or be a seminary graduate to begin representing Christ. The most powerful witness of changed lives is found in the Bible itself and in your own life. Is it really that difficult to tell someone that God loves them and that we are to love one another?

You can always think of a reason why you personally shouldn’t or couldn’t do this for Christ, but no reason is an adequate or legitimate one. The early disciples prayed for boldness when it came to publicly witnessing for Christ. And we should pray the same. Once you begin publicly reading the scriptures you will begin to experience the real call of God in your life. Do you think that God would let you just flounder and stumble in the public eye when representing Him? Of course not. Just read His Word and watch Him do the work through you.
The Message

If you proclaim the message of salvation apart from any denomination or affiliation you have a very powerful message indeed. Because you are representing Christ and not an organization, people can never accuse you of being biased and you will be more successful with the unsaved. Organizations have flawed people in them and will eventually disappoint or even offend other believers. Thus your goal should be to magnify Christ and lead people to the One who will not disappoint them.

The following is a sample opening statement you can use when beginning your message:

Praise God! What a beautiful day it is. Today we are giving away free New Testaments. Absolutely free. No strings attached. So that you may come to know Jesus Christ. No one is saying you have to go to any particular church or listen any particular minister to be saved. But you can read the Word of God on your own and see the goodness of Lord. And God will do a good work in your life. Today we will be reading from the Gospel of John starting from the first verse, etc.

After reading the scripture you can briefly expound on the Word if you like or give a testimony of what God has done for you personally. Always refer people back to receiving their copy free or encourage them to read their own Bibles, if they have one.

By attending to the public reading of scripture you allow the Word to do the work in the lives of others. You unleash the “Power of God unto salvation...”(Romans 1:16). Noticed that I have refrained from using the term preaching in place of reading, because many Christians associate preaching with full time pastors. Therefore they may feel that they are not qualified to read the scriptures publicly. This is simply not true. If you can read at all, you can read publicly. Let the Word do the work.
What is Needed?

Let's begin with the literature. First, decide if you are going to distribute tracts, New Testaments, Bibles, or just read from the scriptures with no literature for distribution. Let's assume you want to give some type of printed material away. Christian literature is available in any Christian bookstore. Be aware that if you are planning to purchase Bibles or New Testaments you will pay less for these if you purchase them from the American or International Bible Societies, rather than from a book store. Catalogs are available from both of the Bible Societies for ordering material. In addition, Free Word Ministries is working closely with a wonderful ministry called Absolutely Free, Inc. and we receive Gospels of John at no cost and you can too. If you would like more information about receiving these wonderfully produced scriptures simply contact this ministry and we will assist you in anyway we can.

Also, you should never charge money for any material you hand out. This will immediately distinguish you from a cult or an organization that is only profit oriented and will place you on the road to a blameless ministry.

Each type of literature has its own advantages and disadvantages. For instance, a Bible tract is inexpensive but provides little information concerning Christ. Whereas, a New Testament provides a lot of information concerning Christ and has the greater ability to disciple an individual, but is more costly. And an entire Bible is even more expensive, but provides the reader with the entire Word of God. My personal preference has been whole New Testaments, when it comes to planting a seed for Christ. The individual who receives a New Testament has a much better chance of becoming a disciple and can study the scriptures concerning the life of Christ along with you.
A table for placing your literature on is always helpful and has several advantages for both you and the ones you are ministering to. First, a table allows you to display a variety of material and provides a place for people to come and gather. Questions can be addressed around the table leaving your partners, if you have any, free to continue reading the scriptures without interruption.

A table also provides a comfortable barrier between you and the other person. In addition, it also allows you to display a sign stating that free material is available.

Tables can also be considered an obstruction to the public. So tables should never hinder the flow of pedestrians. Depending on your local ordinances, permits may be required to set up a table. If a permit is required, a permit can be obtained through the proper authorities such as the police department or the public parks department. Since permits can be expensive, you may choose not to acquire one. The local authorities have been known to overlook that fact and they may allow you the use of a table when finding out that the material is free and you are not actively handing it out. Rather, you are simply allowing people access to free literature at their own leisure. Once you begin distributing material, littering public areas can become an issue and of course you want to avoid that problem.
Solicitation and Distribution

Is allowing the public access to free literature considered solicitation? No. Solicitation is the act of asking or seeking members for donations. A permit is required in most cities for solicitation purposes. But don’t worry, you are not soliciting by allowing people access to literature. Organizations such as the Jehovah Witnesses have to register with the local police department since they are going door to door seeking members. The Constitution of the United States grants freedom of speech under the First Amendment and no permit is necessary when allowing the public free access to literature. For example, the Gideons International, an organization that freely distributed 42 million Bibles around the world in 1995 alone, accomplished this without any permits being required in the United States.

A permit maybe required if you plan to setup a table in a public park. Permits can be obtained through your local Park and Recreation Department or Police Department. Setting up a table on the public sidewalk maybe permitted by the local police if it does not hinder the flow of pedestrians and the local businesses do not complain. If approached by the authorities for setting up a table, just explain in a polite fashion that you are just making Bibles available to anyone who wants one free of charge. And that you are not representing any particular church. You can even offer the officer one free. Many times they will not hinder you if you are polite, well dressed, and are not causing problems. Then there will be times when you have just finished setting up a table and the local authorities will instruct you to take it down immediately. Comply with their instructions concerning the table and simply read the scriptures out load, making reference to the fact that you are giving scriptures away free. Remember the local authorities can only ask you if you have a permit for the table. They can not stop you from exercising your right to free speech.
Whatever you do, please don’t act in a manner that is unbecoming to good Christian behavior. Remember that you represent Christ and people are watching you. Always let the love of God shine through you. For this is how men shall know that you are His disciple, if you have love for one another.

Always disassociate yourself from money. Even if people offer you a donation for the material they receive, do not readily accept it. I say this because your adversaries will be watching and waiting to accuse you of “being in it for the money”. I always encourage those who offer money to buy a few New Testaments themselves and join us in ministering. Therefore, I would encourage you to maintain a blameless ministry in the sight of others as well as God, because people will test your sincerity.

Once while I was ministering to the crowd, there appeared before me a crumpled up five dollar bill on the ground. With dozens of people watching and waiting to see if the Christian would pick it up and pocket the found money, God provided a way of escape for that test. Because we were in the Park every day and had developed a relationship with the homeless people in the area, we had the opportunity to give that money to one whom we had know. I mention this trial because I believe someone intentionally dropped that money before us to see our reaction. People are always watching and will test the genuineness of your faith. Therefore, prove what is the perfect and acceptable will of God before the unsaved.
You Will Be Approached

As you begin your ministry with Christ be prepared to encounter some of the following types of people and questions: First by the honest inquirer. Know what God’s plan of salvation is and have some scripture references memorized or at the very least have them written down for quick access. People who are honestly seeking God are being drawn to you by God so that you may encourage them in some way for Christ. They will be carrying a lot of problems inside them and may need more than a “chance” meeting with you before they begin to open up to Jesus. That’s why establishing a consistent ministry schedule is important. Try to be consistent in the times and places you read and distribute scriptures. Remember always to be honest. If someone asks you something that you don’t know, say that you don’t know the answer to that question, but you will try and find out the answer. Then tell them something you do know about. Offer encouragement by relating how God meets your daily needs. Those honestly seeking the Lord can spot a phony. Be honest.

Next you may encounter a poor person, possibly homeless or jobless. Be prepared for them as well. Copy the names of local organizations where people can find food, clothing, and shelter. This information can be found in the yellow pages. Keep this material available as well as the Word of God. Also keep a few dollars in your pocket as a small gesture of good will towards the individual. Or if you would rather give them food, have some gift certificates handy. Many people who are addicted to alcohol or drugs will try to take advantage of you. Be prepared for that as well. Practice tough love and offer them a Bible along with the names of organizations that can help them. If they refuse it, let them go their way while you continue to minister. Don’t allow them to hinder your ministry. You are presenting the gospel to the lost. That is your primary mission. If you can help someone along the way by ministering to their physical needs, great! But do not allow yourself to be manipulated.
Next you may be approached by a heckler. Most people will not know who you are or what you are representing. And when they hear anything about the Bible, they will mock you as those who mocked Jesus. And they will do this because they do not know Christ and His love. Meet this type of opposition with boldness and let your response be in love. Simply say, for example, “God loves you”. Never allow yourself to be drawn into a heated discussion.

Always remember to overcome evil with good. If you encounter a heckler and he is standing at your table causing confusion and making a scene, ask the person to step away from the table where you or another person can speak with him more privately. This will allow the public reading and the distribution of scriptures to continue without distraction.

I remember one man who cursed me every day for months with a very loud voice in front of many people. My response to him was always, “God loves you”. After a few months he saw that he was not affecting me and I was not going away. He finally approached me and asked me why I was out there day after day. I now had the opportunity to share with him on a personal level the gospel message. He never joined us at the table, but he never again cursed me after that. I don’t remember if he accepted a new testament or not, but his attitude did change concerning the gospel.

Also be on the look out for other types of hecklers such as atheists, agnostics, and cult representatives. They will do whatever they can to hinder the work of God. Whatever you do, avoid associating with anyone who is not a true Christian while ministering to the public. You are not in league with them and they have no part in your ministry. They will do their best to turn you from the Lord and His work by arguing doctrines and philosophies with you. Don’t be distracted by them.
The last group of people that will approach you is the most encouraging of all. These are fellow believers in the Lord, brothers and sisters in Christ who will shake your hand and say things such as, "God bless you, friend. You make it so much easier for me to share my faith when I see you out here. Thank you for the word of encouragement. I really needed to hear what you read today."

You may even find that these brothers and sisters in Christ are coming around more often and are interested in wanting to share the gospel with you. Get ready! God may be assembling an effective ministry for Him.

Ok, now that you have a basic understanding about what is involved in street evangelism, let’s get ready for your first meeting.
Organizing Your Outreach

The Bible states that we are ambassadors for Christ, have you ever heard of an ambassador that would not leave the embassy. You have to leave the embassy to meet the people. Otherwise how can you be God’s representative on earth if you are unwilling to be used by him? So, you will need to decide how much time you can devote to actively winning others to Christ. I strongly encourage you to consider a lunch time ministry. Simply setting up a table and distributing New Testaments or other material in an area with high foot traffic will produce great results. Most of us can afford to miss a lunch every now and then or can grab something to eat on our way back to the office. A Lunch time ministry is very easy to perform. If your schedule does not permit a daily ministry then plan at least a weekly or monthly outreach.

When organizing your first outreach, try to follow the time table below for a smooth beginning. A sample meeting agenda will follow to assist in addressing several important items.

Time Table

1. First, order the scripture material that you will need for your outreach (allow 2 weeks for delivery if you do not have a local source). Remember Free Word Ministries can be your local source for literature with same day service in some cities.

   The reason I started with this item first is that it normally takes one person to fully commit to starting this ministry. Usually it will be up to you to fund the initial order for material. Then when others find out that you carried that first financial expense, the following outreaches maybe supported by others. It is also possible that you alone may bear most of the expense for each outreach. Either way people will be saved and God will get the glory.
2. Next, advertise in your church bulletin that a street evangelism meeting will take place next month. This allows you one month in advance to get all of the necessary things in order. Also advertise a planning meeting at least two weeks prior to the actual outreach date. During this planning meeting the following items listed in the sample agenda should be discussed.

3. Once the outreach has been performed announce your results in the church bulletin and display a progress chart listing the dates of future outreaches. A sample progress chart is included following the sample agenda.

4. Next, prepare for the second outreach with another meeting two weeks prior to discuss the success and any problems that occurred during the previous outreach. During this meeting you will find more people will want to participate since the first outreach was so successful. And believe me your first outreach will be very successful since this is something new and exciting. You will also be encouraged as you reflect upon the number of those who have come to Christ or in the number of scriptures that were distributed.

In addition, during this second meeting try to elect a president, vice president, treasurer, and secretary. This will help solidify your group. Or if you prefer the titles of team leader, assistant team leader, etc. these might be more appealing.

Sample Agenda

1. Goal: To win others to the Lord Jesus Christ. This will be accomplished by distributing scriptures and/or by publicly reading the Word of God.

2. Date: July 22. Participants will meet at the church by 7:30 p.m.
3. Destination: The corner of Market street and Elm Street.

4. Transportation: The church van will be available.

5. Items needed: Table, literature, gift certificates for food for homeless, church information, and social services information (consult yellow pages).

6. Group leaders: You may want to divide into groups of two or four and cover several areas. One person in each team should help organize and shepherd the team. It is not a good idea to have a lot of people all standing around one table. Fan out and handout tracts or testaments and refer people to the table to answer questions or answer them yourself.

7. Funds: The group should pay for all items needed themselves. If you would like to rally your church behind you by all means do so. However keep in mind that it would be a good idea if the group was self supported at first. This will give the actual doers a sense of ownership into the outreach. The goal is to have each person equipped with twenty New Testaments or other scriptures each to distribute. Therefore funds need to be collected by ____ (a set date). Remember, you can also receive evangelism material for free.

8. Commitment: Commitment is the key to a successful ministry. Commit 100% to the Lord’s work and you will see lives changed.

Free Word Ministries also has a free resource for organizing a door to door outreach program in your community. Participating churches work to ensure that every home around the local church is reached with the gospel message and is invited to worship services.

The Fruits of Evangelism

Each time you witness for Christ will be different than the last. You never know whom God will send your way, or what the Devil has in store. _You only know that lives will be touched by the gospel message._ And that’s all you need to know.

The fruits of evangelism will be manifested in three areas: First in your own life. You will experience the love of God flowing through you as you meet the needs of others. You will enjoy in-depth fellowship with His Holy Spirit as He gives you wisdom and understanding for every situation. And, you will also benefit by becoming more like Christ every day. Secondly, the fruits will be manifested in the lives of those who receive the scriptures. Those who may never have had a Bible before will discover for the first time the abundant life found in Christ. Thirdly, the fruits will be manifested in the lives of fellow believers that become your friends and join with you in ministering. These are the friendships that will last for all eternity.

I’m reminded of a time when a Christian brother named Ara and myself were simply standing in the park, just minding our own business. When a woman had recognized us as representatives for Christ and had asked us to pray for her. She was having bad headaches. We felt like Peter and John that day meeting the needs of that woman. It was our pleasure to pray with her. That’s why we are here on this earth. To meet the needs of others and to watch God do the work through us. And I am reminded of another time when I was approached by a man named Phil who had been contemplating suicide that very day. He ended up receiving a New Testament and turned his life over to Christ.

As I said in the introduction, I could list many incidents and many dear friends that I had meet through the years, but there is simply not enough room here. So, I’ll let you discover for yourself the hidden joys that await you in street evangelism.
It is my hope that this material has inspired you to go on to new heights in the Lord that you never thought were possible. Be the voice of one crying in the wilderness, “make straight the paths of the Lord”. Be the one who makes a difference in your community and the world.

I will leave you with these two questions that are always before me, “If you really believe the Bible is the Word of God, then what are you doing to get it into the hands of the lost?” And, secondly, “When the Son of man returns, will he find faith?”

May God richly bless you.
About Free Word Ministries

"And what is our reward? Just this, that the gospel may be preached free of charge." (1 Corinthians 9:18)

Free Word Ministries is a nondenominational outreach ministry that is winning others to the Lord Jesus Christ through the public reading and distribution of scripture.

We offer dynamic and challenging techniques in developing effective evangelism teams. Churches can choose from our daily, weekly, monthly and yearly outreach formats.

Members of Free Word Ministries participate in building strong evangelism teams within their own church while actively witnessing for Christ in their community.

We believe that the gospel is the power of God unto salvation to everyone that believes...(Romans 1:16). That is why we are willing to do everything we can to place it into the hands of the lost.

Some advantages that this ministry brings are: Many people who ordinarily would not go to church receive a free Bible, New Testament, Gospel of John or tract. Our outreach techniques provide the necessary tools in reaching the lost for Christ. Believers who have always wanted to publicly witness for Christ find it easier through this ministry. The cost of material is inexpensive. The actual time involved is minimal. Solicitation of funds is discouraged. We are a self supported ministry first and strive to be a blameless ministry both spiritual and financially.

We can help you get started in this type of outreach, just call us at (214)853-5685.
Evangelism Resource Warehouses

Free Word Ministries is working to form Evangelism Resource Warehouses in each city. Each warehouse contains a large number of the Living Water Gospels of John published and supplied by Absolutely Free, Inc. (www.livingwater.org) and scripture booklets published by World Missionary Press, Inc. (www.wmpress.org). In addition, Free Word Ministries publishes free evangelism training material and supplies display racks to Christian businesses and churches at no cost.

Free Word Ministries also provides training videos on a variety of subjects at no cost.

Please visit our web site for more information about this ministry.

If you would like information about opening an Evangelism Resource Warehouse, please contact us.
Ministry Support

Here are the different ways we can help each other:

Our Evangelism Resource Warehouses

Are open to anyone who knows the Lord Jesus Christ as their personal Savior. Gospels of John, scripture booklets and evangelism training material are available free of charge.

Basic Ministry Supporter

The Basic Ministry Supporter is lead to contribute $12 a year ($1 a month) to assist in keeping our publications free and our warehouses open. You will receive our monthly newsletter in addition to having access to the Evangelism Resource Warehouse.

Warehouse Sponsor or Helper

A Warehouse Sponsorship or Helper assumes either the complete or partial financial responsibility of supporting an Evangelism Resource Warehouse in a major city. The cost for maintaining a warehouse is $30.00 a month.

The Perpetual Scripture Fund

Your one time gift can become a life time of giving.

All contributions to this fund are placed in an account, where the principal amount remains intact. The interest from this account is then used to purchase scripture to help keep all resources free of charge.

Thank you,
Ministry Opportunities

Tithing Is Not For Christians

Have you ever been made to feel that you were living below the “acceptable limit” of Christian giving? What does the Bible really say about tithing? Is it for today or has the law been fulfilled? This book traces the history of tithing from its’ origin with Abraham to its’ fulfillment in Christ. Get the Biblical knowledge that is necessary to live in the light of God’s grace and learn the truth about tithing.

“When the Son of Man comes, will he find faith on the earth?” (Luke 18:8)
